YANKEE DOODLE.

"Yankee Doodle" recently of Indiana and now of Oklahoma City reaches our desk with regularity which is both pleasing and edifying. It is a nice little periodical which somehow makes a fellow believe life is all the more worth living after he has read it. Full of bright and witty sayings there is a philosophy also which carries the "shap" home. In the last issue there was an article on Oklahoma. Just how genial Ben Gordon Whitehead could find so much to say about the state without having visited Ardmore is hard to fathom out, but perhaps like all feasts, he is saving the sweetest morsel for the last.

Come down and see us Colonel. We remember the hearty shake in your honest hand and the wholesomeness of the laugh so distinctly that we shall be glad to greet you again.

"STARTING THE NEW YEAR RIGHT."

There is a knock at the door. Time to get up. It is the morning of the year. Stretch your frame of mind so through a free brain mental exercises—take a cold plunge into the clear, sparkling possibilities that lie before you.

Now for a lively run-down till you are aglow with optimism—then slide into your union suit of hopefulness on your base of Faith—buckle up your shoes of Energy, and give your bright Outlook a clean shave—put on a shirt without a "yellow stripe," a clean white collar of determination, with a harmonizing tie of cheerfulness and get out your comfortable coat of enthusiasm with pants and vest to match.

You are going out on another lap of life's journey, and you want to get a good start. You have made the trip many times in the past and, like every other thinking man, you are planning a more prosperous and successful journey for 1916.

There are two highways from which you may choose your route. The upper and lower roads. The upper road may seem the most difficult, at the outset, but it is by far the best of the two.

This "upper" road over life's journey is traveled only by those who have the qualities and virtues to overcome difficulties and surmount obstacles. It is up hill and down. You will pass through foul and fair weather—you will encounter steep grades, rocky and slopes and narrow passages, and there are many evidences of struggles by the way side, and you will see the bypaths here and there which lead down to the lower road, but the main highway is plainly marked at every fork and junction, so that he who runs may read, and if you follow the sign of progress that marks the way you will reap the goal of success at your destination and enjoy pride and pleasure at having won.

The "lower" road is down grade all the way—it affords "easy" means of transportation. There are tuff seats in all conveyances—there are gay and hysterical crowds to cheer you as you pass—there are bands and orchestras to make music—there are many bright mirages and optical illusions to lead you on and there is much leisure among the happy-go-lucky wayfarers. There are also bypaths along this road which lead to the upper highway, but the sign posts are marked in small letters and there are a few who struggle up these difficult paths.

But you have resolved to take the "upper highway" to success. You have traveled this road before, and know that it is possible to make every foot of the way.

You will be accompanied by your three guards—Experience, Judgment and Personality—and these will insure a good trip.

The year is now in front of you—it is all future, and you can see it to meet your own ideas as far as business is concerned. Pretty soon the year will be divided into Past, Present and Future—with the Future steadily shifting with the Past like the hands of a clock and when it passes the ever-present is the time to act and to work—making every minute of the future count to insure the pleasant vision of a successful past.

The old-fashioned American good times are now with us. That is a settled fact. The possibilities are never greater and the outlook never brighter. We must start out with a firm resolution to make 1916 the biggest year in the history of business.

Remember that the condition of your business is determined largely by the state of your mind and the amount of good, honest efforts you put into your work. Start in early with an atmosphere of enthusiasm and buoyancy and take advantage of the opportunities that are always surrounding the man who has confidence in himself and the determination to win.

Don't wait for the season to open up in your territory, but have an opening of your own—by getting on the job early, and going after the business whenever you feel that there is a bare possibility of making a sale.

Be prepared for all those ancient New Year's stunts—don't be checked in your progress by the old "stock-taking" and "inventory" joke—pay no attention to the pie crust promise of definite action when the "winter breaks" or "I'll be in line when the spring season is in sight." Many people advance these arguments when they don't really mean what they say and the first salesman who comes along with the "pop" and the "ginger" to overcome their subterfuge will tuck the order into a self-addressed envelope and send it to his house—From a Letter Written to Salesmen by L. J. Miles of the Hamilton-Carhart Factory.

Dr. Ed. Sorens, Editor Remedies Won't Cure.
The antidotes, however of how long standing, is cured by the wonderful, old reliable Dr. J. C. Anderson's Healing Oil. It cures skin and throat at the same time. 25c, 50c, $1.00

UNCLE SAM HAS MANY JOBS GOING BEGGING

Washington, Jan. 4.—As a rule Washington is overrun with applicants for good jobs, but Uncle Sam has some fine positions that are going begging. Within a very short time it is expected that statistics will be presented to congress showing the lamentable weakness in the navy with respect to an adequate supply of competent engineers. Plans are on foot to have legislation passed establishing an engineer corps in the navy. Back in 1899 this was abolished. Under the present system officers of the line are detailed to duty in the engine rooms of the warships with the result, according to the evidence of those who are familiar with the situation, that the warships are in the hands of engineering officers who are indifferent to their duties. That there is something wrong in the naval engineering force is at least strongly indicated by the fact that the department is asking congress for $1,000,000 to overhaul the turbines of the North Dakota and three smaller craft.

JANUARY 4 IN HISTORY

- 1762—England declared war against Spain.
- 1778—Americans defeated by the British at Savannah.
- 1784—Treaty signed between the United States and Great Britain, by which England relinquished her right to the sovereignty of the revolted colonies.

The Weekly Ardmoreite reaches the farmer.

A group of steel makers and others under the lead of Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the steel trust, and Chas. M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, are contributing toward the presentation of an armored train to the National Guard of New York. The train will have a battle car heavily protected with armor plate and six or seven lightly armored cars equipped with machine guns and capable of high speed. The steel makers have promised to contribute and furnish the armor plate and other metal parts of the train at cost.
